Part –I Reading Comprehension

1. Read the following comprehension carefully and answer the given questions: (10 M)

Dilli Haats in Delhi are the most popular shopping places for art and craft lovers of Delhi and other parts of India. There are three such Haats in different parts of Delhi. The first Dilli Haat was set up at INA in 1994 by Delhi tourism. It has a paid entrance, open air market and food plaza. Here you will get a wide range of handloom products and craft items from different parts of India. The Haat has many different stalls that are set up in thatched cottages. Thatched cottage stalls create the atmosphere of a village. The shops here are rented for 15 days to skilled craftsmen and weavers. They come from different parts of India and put their stalls in Delhi Haat. In fact Dilli Haat is a window to the different crafts of India. Foreigners visiting Delhi do visit this place. The food court here houses 48 different stalls of different States of India. Many festivals too are celebrated at Dilli Haat. The main attractions are the Teej festival in August and Baisakhi festival in April. The fun festival of Delhi – Comic Con is also organised at Dilli Haat.
